Cordoba Minerals Announces the Receipt of US$4 Million Bridge Financing from Ivanhoe Electric

VANCOUVER, CANADA – Sarah Armstrong-Montoya, President and Chief Executive Officer of Cordoba Minerals Corp. (TSXV:CDB; OTCQB:CDBMF; otherwise “Cordoba” or the “Company”), is pleased to announce that the Company has received the previously announced bridge financing of US$4 million in the form of a short-term convertible debenture (the “Debenture”) from Cordoba’s majority shareholder, Ivanhoe Electric Inc.

The proceeds from the Debenture have been advanced to CMH Colombia S.A.S. (“CMH”), the joint venture vehicle that owns 100% of the Alacran Project, in Colombia, for the joint-development with JCHX Mining Management Co., Ltd. (refer to Cordoba’s news release dated October 4, 2023).

The purpose of the Debenture is to ensure the Company can continue the advancement of the Feasibility Study (“FS”) and the Environmental Impact Assessment (“EIA”) work programs at the Alacran Project, and for general corporate purposes.

“With the ongoing backing of our majority shareholder, Ivanhoe Electric Inc., the FS technical work program can continue to focus on the optimization of the Alacran Project, which is expected to improve project economics and further enhance project value,” commented Ms. Sarah Armstrong-Montoya, President and CEO of Cordoba. “The EIA is also underway. We expect to have both items ready for the next step by the end of this year.”

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release includes “forward-looking statements” and “forward-looking information” within the meaning of Canadian securities legislation. All statements included in this news release, other than statements of historical fact, are forward-looking statements including, without limitation, the Alacran Project and development thereof. Forward-looking statements include predictions, projections and forecasts and are often, but not always, identified by the use of words such as “anticipate”, “believe”, “plan”, “estimate”, “expect”, “potential”, “target”, “budget” and “intend” and statements that an event or result “may”, “will”, “should”, “could” or “might” occur or be achieved and other similar expressions and includes the negatives thereof.

Forward-looking statements are based on a number of assumptions and estimates that, while considered reasonable by management based on the business and markets in which Cordoba operates, are inherently subject to significant operational, economic, and competitive uncertainties, risks and contingencies. There can be no assurance that such statements will prove to be accurate and actual results, and future events could differ materially from those anticipated in such statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company’s expectations include actual exploration results, interpretation of metallurgical characteristics of the mineralization, changes in project parameters as plans continue to be refined, future metal prices, availability of capital and financing on acceptable terms, general economic, market or business conditions, uninsured risks, regulatory changes, delays or inability to receive required approvals, and other exploration or other risks detailed herein and from time to time in the filings made by the Company with securities regulators, including those described under the heading “Risks and Uncertainties” in the Company’s most recently filed MD&A. The Company does not undertake to update or revise any forward-looking statements, except in accordance with applicable law. Readers are cautioned not to put undue reliance on these forward-looking statements.
